Blakeland House, Old Warwick Road

Rowington

Summary

Occupying fabulous formal lawned gardens extending to around 1.1 acres, coupled with a neighbouring paddock of circa 2.35 acres, this is an imposing and extended individual detached residence situated within a prime semi-rural location. Accessed via a gated entrance, the property is set well back from Old Warwick Road itself, with the splendid surrounded garden being complemented by ample parking, a large rear roof terrace and beautifully landscaped koi pond.

The neighbouring paddock is ideal for small scale equestrian use, whilst the house itself provides extensive accommodation including four reception rooms to the ground floor. The most striking feature of the first floor accommodation is the master bedroom suite, which includes a comfortable lounge and en suite bathroom and also provides access to the rear roof terrace. Further first floor accommodation includes four additional bedrooms, including an en suite guest bedroom. Overall this is an opportunity to purchase a home of distinction set within an extensive plot which, in conjunction with the paddock, totals around 3.5 acres.

Location

The village of Rowington falls within Warwick District, being five miles north-west of Warwick itself and five miles south-west of Kenilworth. Neighbouring villages include Lawsonford and Lapworth, there also being good local access available to Solihull, Knowle and Hockley Heath.
